

BACK ARMOR

Post-Imp Back Armor Guide

* Holes in back plates that are meant for strapping must utilize strapping/armor OR be fully backed.

* Post Imperial backplates may not wrap around the shoulders or sides of the wearer extensively. (Example: OT Fett/Jango)

COVERT

Custom armor based on screen references is approvable. More flexible in style, but must still be based on canon plates or be a previously approved style. Not required if wearing a jetpack.

MERCENARY

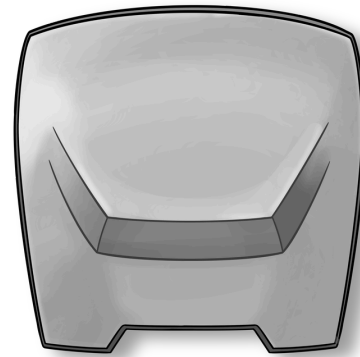

Should closely resemble canon references. Backplate is required.

SURVIVOR

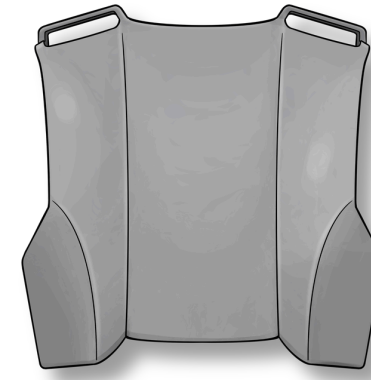

Customizations permitted if they are based on canon live action armor. Backplate not required if wearing poncho, cape, duster, or jetpack.

MASTER

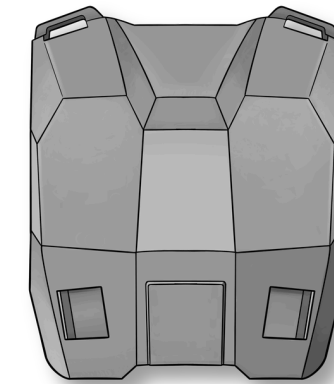

Back armor is not approvable.

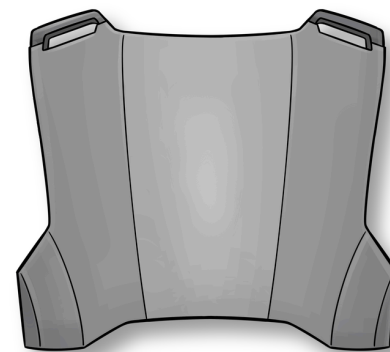

Din Djarin
Covert
Fleet Mercs

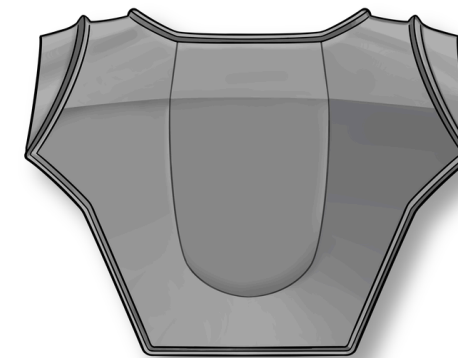

Nite Owl
Covert
Fleet Mercs

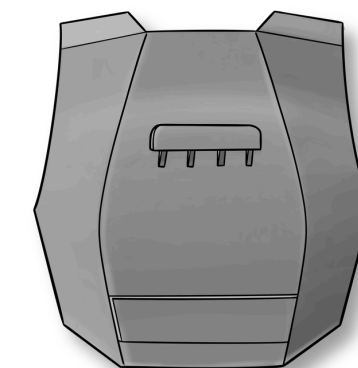

Book of Boba Fett (BoBF)
Covert
Fleet Mercs

Sabine Wren

The Armorer

Paz Vizsla

This graphic contains examples of the post imperial style armor we see on screen. The red label is the primary name of the armor. Black is who else wears the armor on screen.