

COMMUNICATION SPECIALIST

BRIGADES

MMCC Brigades represents a distinct set of professions, with specific costume requirements known as Brigade Requirement Lists (BRLs). Members wishing to join a brigade must meet both CRL and BRL requirements to apply for recognition.

CHOOSE YOUR PATH. HONOR YOUR SKILLS. GO ABOVE AND BEYOND.

Communication Specialists control the flow of battlefield intel. They gather, analyze, and transmit vital data to keep squads connected, aware, and coordinated, often directing the tide of battle through information alone.

COMMS PACK

Comms Specialists rely on back-mounted radio packs to coordinate and intercept communications. Enhanced antenna arrays increase their range, helping keep allied forces informed, connected, and combat-ready.

WEAPONS

Comms favors compact sidearms that can be drawn and operated with one hand while managing equipment. Reliability and ease of carry are valued above raw firepower.

Westar 35

DL-44

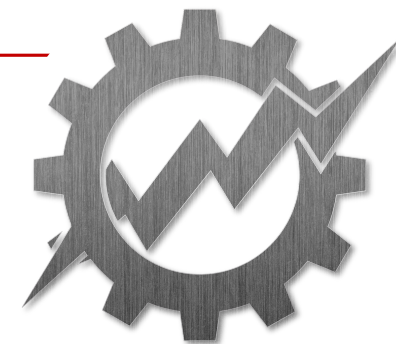

Custom Blaster

Minimum required armor includes collar, chest, abdomen, back, cod/armored loin cloth, shoulders, gauntlets, and knees. Era-specific requirements apply regardless of which BRL is selected.

ARMOR

COMMS FEATURES

- Helmet: Helmets must include a communication antenna, such as a modified rangefinder, standard antenna, or satellite dish. Connections to additional communications equipment must be clearly visible.
- Weathering: Light to heavy weathering is acceptable and should accurately reflect the environment in which the Mandalorian operates.
- Colors: No color restrictions apply.

SPECIALIZED EQUIPMENT

Data Spike

Holoprojector

Skeleton Keys

Microphones

Signal Mirrors

Binocs

Data Pad

Slicing Kit

Laser Designator

Spot Lamps