

ASSASSIN

BRIGADES

MMCC Brigades represents a distinct set of professions, with specific costume requirements known as Brigade Requirement Lists (BRLs). Members wishing to join a brigade must meet both CRL and BRL requirements to apply for recognition.

CHOOSE YOUR PATH. HONOR YOUR SKILLS. GO ABOVE AND BEYOND.

Assassins are single-minded specialists, trained for one mission and one mission only: eliminate the target. Whether assigned to bring down a warlord, corrupt official, or dangerous rival, they strike with precision and without hesitation. Assassins excel in both close-quarters combat and long-range elimination, often planning meticulously before moving in for the kill. No obstacle, guard, or battlefield will stop them once the hunt begins.

Bowcaster

Westar-34

Custom Blaster

Spotter Droid

ASSASSIN WEAPONS

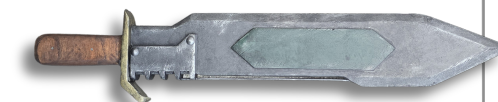

Assassins rely on compact, easily concealed weapons to complete their contracts. From discreet holdout blasters to powerful Verpine shatter pistols, every weapon is chosen to remain hidden until the moment it is needed. A skilled Assassin leaves nothing behind but the target.

WEAPONS

A beskar, electro, or cortosis blade is invaluable when silence is essential to the mission.

Vibro Knife

Beskad

Throwing Vibro Knives

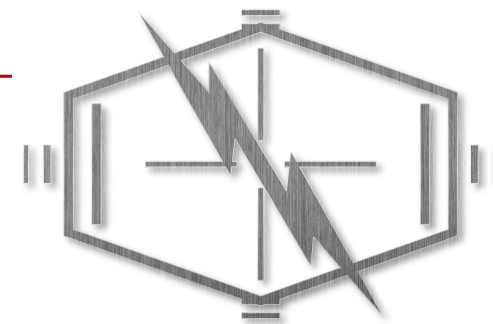

Sword

Minimum required armor includes collar, chest, abdomen, back, cod/armored loin cloth, shoulders, gauntlets, and knees. Era-specific requirements apply regardless of which BRL is selected.

ARMOR

ASSASSIN FEATURES

- Armor: Light armor with streamlined silhouette. Bulky plates are not permitted.
- Helmet: Must maintain a streamlined profile with minimal attachments. Rangefinders are permitted.
- Colors: Muted colors are required.
- Weathering: Light to heavy weathering is acceptable.
- Trophies and Accessories: Loose trophies or unsecured accessories that could fall off or leave evidence behind are not permitted.

SPECIALIZED EQUIPMENT

Vibropicks

Crush Gaunts

Tessan

Holdout Blaster

Gauntlet-mounted Blasters

Scrambler Key

Grenades

Signal Jammers

Dart Launchers

Jet Boots