

RECON

BRIGADES

MMCC Brigades represents a distinct set of professions, with specific costume requirements known as Brigade Requirement Lists (BRLs). Members wishing to join a brigade must meet both CRL and BRL requirements to apply for recognition.

CHOOSE YOUR PATH. HONOR YOUR SKILLS. GO ABOVE AND BEYOND.

Recon specialists are the unseen scouts and analysts of the battlefield. With unmatched observational skills and eidetic memory, they gather mission-critical intelligence, including enemy positions, weaknesses, and terrain, long before the first shot is fired. Operating deep behind enemy lines or in advance of an assault, they move unseen and unheard, always one step ahead. Victory often begins with Recon because knowing the battlefield is the first weapon.

Rancor X Blaster Rifle

E-11 Customized

Ghillie Cape

RECON WEAPONS

Recon Specialists gather critical intelligence in the field, relying on sharp observation and versatile weaponry to complete the mission. Their loadouts often include scoped rifles, shotguns, blaster pistols, and concealed weapons suited to changing conditions.

WEAPONS

A beskar, electro, or cortosis blade is invaluable when silence is essential to the mission.

Kal

Combat Knife

Vibro Knife

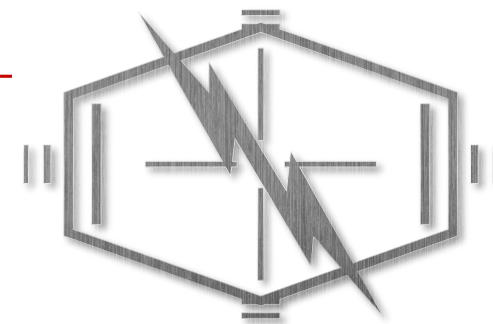

Custom Knife

Minimum required armor includes collar, chest, abdomen, back, cod/armored loin cloth, shoulders, gauntlets, and knees. Era-specific requirements apply regardless of which BRL is selected.

ARMOR

RECON FEATURES

- Armor: Light armor with streamlined silhouette. Bulky armor plates are not permitted.
- Gear Storage: Must carry sufficient storage for equipment. At minimum, four pouches are required.
- Colors: Muted colors are required.
- Weathering: Light to heavy weathering is acceptable.
- Gloves and Boots: Heavy-duty gloves and boots are required to provide protection and mobility in varied environments.

SPECIALIZED EQUIPMENT

Weapons Reloads

Grenades

Built-in Comms

Holdout Blasters

Hand-held Comms

Survival Kit

Signal Flares

Macrobinocs

Heavy-duty Gloves

Sturdy-soled Boots